

The twelfth edition of International Convention of Asia Scholars (ICAS 12) will, for the first time, feature an online Asian Studies Exhibitor Gallery. The convention will bring approximately 1,500–2,000 participants virtually together from 24–28 August 2021 on a Kyoto-themed conference platform. Check out the impression flyer below to get an idea of the possibilities of the platform to showcase your presence at ICAS 12. To publishers, we present an interesting audience and offer acquisition editors an untapped pool of potential authors. These partly derive from our multilingual ICAS Book Prize with 700 submissions in nine languages and nearly 200 dissertations. Consequently, we will host more than a hundred book presentations, meet the author sessions and dissertation pitches. To institutes, we present a platform at which they can promote their latest activities, attract a wider audience and establish new connections.

Reserve a Gallery Spot now and you receive:

- One fully branded stand with dedicated space for a personalised backdrop, a promotional video and the opportunity to share documents, videos and information;
- Dedicated text and/or video chat and networking feature for exhibitors to connect to potential authors and customers;
- One free conference registration with full access to panel sessions, roundtable discussion, poster presentations, documentaries, cultural activities and networking opportunities;
- Option to register 1 additional attendee per exhibitor for EUR 130 euro (17,000 yen);
- Receive data reports with information about the number of booth/page visits.

Cost of this Exhibitor Package: EUR 400 (53,000 yen)

Join us in our online adventure and take a virtual dive in the immersive online ICAS 12 world.

ICAS 12 will feature an online Asian Studies Exhibitor Gallery where publishers can showcase their new titles, institutes can inform participants about their latest activities and connections can be established through text and video chat.

First virtual ICAS!

The International Convention of Asia Scholars (ICAS) is the premier international meeting of Asia Scholars. It engages participants from all continents in dialogues on Asia that transcend boundaries between academic disciplines and geographic regions.

The twelfth edition of ICAS will go online and will feature an online Asian Studies Exhibitor Gallery!

Don't miss out!

The live ICAS 12 will take place over a period of five days from Tuesday 24–Saturday 28 August 2021. Pre-recorded content will be made available as of 10 August and will be accessible until 15 October 2021.

We will bring the atmosphere of Kyoto to your home through our online platform. Enjoy special Kyoto-related activities and other cultural events.
